PROJECT DESCRIPTION

Water diverted from the North Fork Reservoir travels to the water treatment plant. After treatment, the water is discharged into a 16 inch diameter cast iron pipe for a 110 foot elevation drop over approximately 600 feet. The pipe then bifurcates with the majority of the flow entering into a 10 foot long 16" diameter PVC pipe with an actuated valve that conveys the water to the turbine. After the water passes through the turbine it will be conveyed in a 10 foot long 16" diameter PVC pipe back to the 16" diameter cast iron pipe for use in the City of Corvallis. The project will pass between 3.7 to 4.6 cubic feet per second, 24 hours a day, 365 days a year; with the exception of an annual one day shutdown to clean the flocculation and sedimentation basins. The hydroelectric works, which will be housed in a 16 x 24 foot structure, include: the turbine, induction generator, a power conversion system, and other accessory equipment.
