

A map of the Antelope Flat Reservoir area, oriented with North at the top. The map features a grid with vertical coordinates 13, 14, 18, and 23, and horizontal coordinates 21 and 23. A thick black line, likely representing a road or boundary, runs horizontally across the middle of the map. To the left of this line is 'BEAR CREEK', which flows southwards. To the right of the line is 'ANTELOPE FLAT RESERVOIR'. Above the reservoir, a dashed line represents 'UNNAMED CREEK', which flows southwards and then turns east. Further north, another dashed line represents 'FAUGHT CREEK', which flows southwards. Several points along these creeks are marked with 'D.V.'. The map also includes labels for 'R19E' and 'R20E' on the right side.
