- 8. Remarks:

The locks at Willamette Falls are owned by the United States and managed by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers. The U.S. Army Corps of Engineers has declined to file a registration statement for the locks on the grounds that (a) the federal navigation servitude empowers the United States to take and use all water necessary for navigation through the locks, and (b) the McCarran Amendment, 43 USC § 666, does not require the United States to file a registration statement.

However, PGE and Simpson Paper (Oregon) Company ("Simpson"), PGE's lessee, have beneficially used the water that passes through the locks in connection with the hydroelectric and industrial development of Willamette Falls that PGE commenced in 1889. See generally Registration Statement, Willamette Falls, Hydroelectric and Industrial Process Water, filed contemporaneously with this Registration Statement. In particular, Simpson uses the locks to transport raw materials in and finished products out of its Evergreen Mill. Through this Registration Statement, PGE claims the right to use the water that passes through the locks for navigation, independent of but co-extensive with the rights of the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers arising under the federal navigation servitude or otherwise.
