8. Remarks continued:

This Woolley family ranch, known as the Compton Ranch, was homesteaded in 1866. The homesteaders raised stock and farmed, lived and died on their patented and/or purchased homestead. A family, or several family, grave is located hereon or quite close and the tombstones chronicle the generations. As years passed, economics and social pressures brought the smaller homesteads into larger ownerships and today the Woolley family owns the property. But the land continued (and continues) to produce livestock and some crops for the owners. Grazing livestock requires water nearby, so the springs and streams have furnished stockwater on a continuous basis since the land was patented. Fortunately the property has ample springs and streams for livestock. (See Map.)

The residences use spring water for domestic purposes. Gravity systems flowed from springs above the homes down to the residence. Usually the residence was placed so that it would be served water by gravity from the spring.

Stock Watering Equipment

The springs and streams are improved and have distribution through 4 inch P.V.C. pipes into steel watering troughs. Gravity supplies the pressure.

Domestic (Expanded) Systems

The domestic systems receive water from the springs through 2 inch P.V.C. pipes by gravity. Each house currently has its own pressurized system, powered by a small electric motor, with small pressure tank. The garden and lawn irrrigation systems are customized to fit the local situation.
