

Final Order

Application History

On January 10, 1991, the Oregon Department of Fish and Wildlife submitted an application to the Department for an instream water right in the South Umpqua River, a tributary to the Umpqua River. On August 20, 1996, the Department issued a Proposed Final Order proposing to issue the certificate with conditions. Jack Joyce filed a protest on October 3, 1996. The Department evaluated the protest to determine if it provided a preponderance of evidence showing that the proposed use would impair or be detrimental to the public interest according to standards described in ORS 537.170(8) and concluded that it did not.

The findings of fact and conclusions of law in the Proposed Final Order are incorporated into this Final Order.

The proposed use would not impair or be detrimental to the public interest.
