Remarks: Cliff Montgomery probably constructed this sump in 1954, according to neighbors. We purchased this property in 1968 and improved the irrigation system with cement ditches and leveling so that we did not need the additional water until the drought this year. When getting ready to replace the pump we discovered that the application had never been filed on this sump. According to the neighbor to the South, the pump improved the high water table and subsequent alkali problem in this area.
