Remarks: The lands above described now have an adjudicated water right. The ditch which at present serves the lands is diverted on adjacent lands to the North owned by another. Experience has shown that late in the season a large enough head of water cannot be had thru the present ditch to irrigate the upper users lands and meet his requirements and leave sufficient to flow thru the ditch to applicant's property. Yet at the same time at the point of diversion fixed for this application, there is water flowing in Mill Creek which he can put to beneficial use. It is not proposed that the point of diversion now used be changed because for a large part of the season the premises can be irrigated thru the existing system and this practice will be followed except when because of low water it becomes necessary to use the lower outlet.
