Remarks: At the time of making survey of this project, these springs were not a tributary of Rock Creek Reservoir, the water ceasing to flow at a point in stream bed about 1000 feet from the reservoir. During the early season there is some run-off water along Wildcat Creek that reaches the reservoir. This condition exists until about June, and on this year, the reservoir was filled and about 15 second feet of water was going over the spillway as late as June 10. By June 25, the water had about stopped flowing over the spillway of Rock Creek Reservoir. At this time the flow in Wildcat Creek had subsided to about 0.10 second foot. It then appears that there is a very small margin of time between the period of time when The Rock Creek District Improvement Company, has water going over the spillway and the time when the water in Wildcat Creek ceases to be a tributary of the reservoir. It also appears that the applicant is filing on unappropriated water. On August 14, 1958, the spring water was not flowing off of his land.
