Water Resources Commission Meeting

2019 Session Legislative and Budget Update

I. Introduction

During this informational report, staff will provide a recap of the 2019 Session.

II. Background:

The 80th Oregon Legislative Assembly convened on January 22, 2019. The Legislature adjourned the 2019 Regular Session Sine Die on June 30, 2019. During session, more than 2,750 measures, not including amendments, were introduced and distributed among 12 Senate committees, 12 House committees, and 15 Joint committees. More information about the 2019 Legislative Session and the legislative process is available on the Oregon Legislature's website at www.oregonlegislature.com.

III. Session Outcomes: Budget Measures

A summary of the Department's budget is included in more detail in Attachment 1. All or a portion of the following Department Policy Option Packages were funded this session:

- Package 101 – Placed Based Planning Community Support
- Package 102 – Groundwater Data, Management and Protection
- Package 107 – Investing in Projects to Meet Water Needs
- Package 112 – Continuing Payroll Shared Services

In addition, the Water Resources Department received funds to distribute grants to: the City of Newport to design replacements for the Big Creek Dams ($4 million), the Deschutes Basin Board of Control to pipe open-ditch irrigation canals ($10 million), and to the Wallowa Lake Irrigation District to rehabilitate the Wallowa Lake Dam ($14 million).

Aside from the Department's budget, other agencies that received funding of note included the Department of Administrative Services and the Higher Education Coordinating Commission. The Department of Administrative Services received funds for:

- Umatilla County to reimburse surface water pumping costs of ground water rights holders in critical ground water areas ($1 million),
- Harney County School District #1J to drill a potable water well ($175,000), and
- Klamath County to acquire, install and maintain stream gages in the Klamath Basin ($30,000).

The Higher Education Coordinating Commission received funding for the Agricultural Experiment Station and the branch extension stations of Oregon State University ($2.27 million) and Oregon State University Extension Service ($410,000) for an integrated river basin water quality and quantity program.

Business Oregon, Department of Environmental Quality, Oregon Military Department, and other agencies also saw additional water-related investments not listed here pertaining to infrastructure, drinking water systems, and water quality, among others.

IV. Session Outcomes: Policy Measures

As discussed previously, the Department introduced three policy bills, two of which were enacted into law.

House Bill 2084 extends the sunset for the Department's Placed-Based Planning authority to July 1, 2023.

House Bill 2085, modernizes the state's dam safety program, which for the most part has not been updated in decades. The new law updates and adds new provisions related to dam construction and modifications, repair of unsafe and potentially unsafe dams, maintenance, emergencies, and removal. The law requires rulemaking; therefore, updates to Oregon Administrative Rules Chapter 690, Division 20, are expected to be before the Commission in 2020. House Bill 2085 becomes operative on July 1, 2020.

The Department's final measure relating to transfers in the type of water storage, Senate Bill 51, died on the first chamber posting deadline in the Senate Environment and Natural Resources Committee. Work to resolve this issue will continue in the interim.

No other water quantity related measures passed the legislature.

Four measures on professional licensing will require implementation by the Department's well driller licensing program. These measures include:

- House Bill 3030 and Senate Bill 688: Requires professional licensing boards to issue temporary authorization to a person who currently holds authorization to provide the regulated service in another state and who is married to a US Armed Forces member stationed in Oregon. Requires professional licensing boards to file annual reports about temporary authorization programming with the Legislature.

- Senate Bill 854: Requires professional licensing boards to accept federally-issued identification numbers (e.g. taxpayer identification number) on professional licensing applications in lieu of Social Security Numbers.
- Senate Bill 855: Requires professional licensing boards to study, develop, implement, and report to the Legislature about methods to reduce barriers to authorization for applicants who may be immigrants or refugees.

The Department tracked more than 700 measures, with less than 200 of those measures becoming law. A list of measures that passed the legislature that may be of interest to the Commission is included in Attachment 2.

V. Budget Note

One budget note was approved by the legislature, which directs the Department to compile information regarding actions it has taken that resulted in being party to a contested case hearing or legal action between 2015 and July 1, 2019. The report is due to the Joint Committee on Ways and Means on January 1, 2020. More information is provided in Attachment 1 and staff have begun work on the report.

VI. Water Committee and Legislative Days

Over the interim, the House and Senate committees will meet during Legislative Days scheduled for September 16-18, November 18-20 and January 13-15. The Speaker of the House recently appointed a House Water Committee, including the following members:

- Ken Helm, Chair
- Gary Leif, Vice-Chair
- Jeff Reardon, Vice-Chair
- Vikki Breese-Iverson
- Karin Power
- E. Werner Reschke
- Marty Wilde

VII. Conclusion

The “short” session is slated to begin February 3, 2020, with a Constitutional Sine Die date of March 8, 2020. The Department will begin preparing legislative concept and budget package proposals for the 2021 Legislative Session in the coming months.
